Hometown Weekly is Proud to Offer Dignified Obituary Services at Competitive Rates

Unlike larger publications whose lengthy obituary sections often look like laundry lists, our paper's smaller size and local focus gives us a unique opportunity to intimately spotlight the individuality of our deceased neighbors. With reasonably-priced options ranging from a few sentences to feature-length, Hometown Weekly is an ideal place to give beloved community members their final bow.

Brad McMillan

Obituary

Pharmacy for nearly 20 years. Brad would later sell the pharmacy and work for various healthcare organizations as a pharmacist, primarily helping people in medical need.

Brad enjoyed working on his yard, doing his local errands in Medfield to the bank & post office and enjoyed trips to Cape Cod especially for the restaurants' "surf here" specials. He also took pride in his family's Pilgrim heritage and for many years hosted Thanksgiving dinner when he cooked turkey and all the fixings for the entire family. During his retirement years, Brad would also continue to be active in the community volunteering and working at both the Medfield and Millis Senior Centers. He loved traveling especially in Cary, North Carolina and Taipei, Taiwan to visit his grandchildren.

His bright smile, chatty conversations with all and being at the family gatherings with his brothers-in-law & sisters-in-law and success & mishaps were what Brad lived for all the time. Family was always most important to Brad and being with his wife and children and 3 grandchildren filled him each day with joy and happiness.

Brad is predeceased by his father Harold McMillan, mother Minnie McMillan, and sisters Janet Nicholson and Nancy Haggard. Brad leaves behind his beloved wife Carolyn Woo McMillan, son Jon McMillan (Chungwee), and daughter Meredith McMillan Uchida (Kolan). He was the proud grandfather of Lisa and Mia Uchida and Ben McMillan.

There will be no funeral services.

Barbara McTernan

resided in Medfield for 37 years. She is preceded in death by her father, John Vincent McTernan. Barbara leaves behind her mother, Mary A. McTernan, brother, John W. McTernan and his wife Kathy Jacob McTernan of Norwood, MA and numerous aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews throughout Ireland, England and Scotland.

Barbara was a very happy child with great personality which she had all through her life. She loved animals from the beginning and she became an accomplished equestrian. She made friends with everyone wherever she went.

She became a Flight Attendant for U.S. Airways which later became American Airlines. For several years she had the opportunity of seeing most of this beautiful United States and much of Europe. She was working for U.S. Air during that tragic day of 9/11. Luckily, she was safe in South with her crew. The airline industry has experienced many changes since then.

Reflecting back, she was thankful for the exciting and wonderful life she experienced. Barbara had a great sense of humor. Some of her favorite television programs were "Days Boney, The Three Stooges, The Jeffersons and Sponge Bob." She read every book that was ever printed about "All Creatures Great and Small" several times over. Her motto was "Don't take yourself too seriously." Barbara, life will not be as happy without you. We will love and remember you forever. Miss John, Kathy, Brendan, and all whom love Laura you.

A Mass of Christian burial was celebrated on Tuesday, August 25, at St. Edward the Confessor Church, 133 Spring St., Medfield, MA 02052, after which the family attended a graveside burial.
